6 steps to making a good application

Filling out this application form is the first formal step you must take in applying to NCAD. Take your time, do it carefully and accurately, and follow the six steps outlined below. It's really quite easy to do a good job. Good luck!

- ① Consult the current NCAD prospectus and course leaflets. Check the entry requirements. Check the closing date for the course and year of study for which you wish to apply.
- ② Read through the entire form thoroughly and familiarise yourself with every section, including the conditions and regulations for application, before beginning to complete the form. You will notice that there are sections for our office use only, and one section that needs to be completed by your tutor or other qualified person. Everything else concerns you.
- ③ You MUST fill in Sections 1 to 6 as well as the Declaration. You will notice that some sections may not seem relevant to your experience but you MUST follow the instructions carefully and fill in these sections as indicated.
- ④ Carefully check through your completed application form. Double and triple-check that everything is correctly filled out.
- ⑤ Read the conditions and regulations carefully. Sign the form where it says 'Declaration' on the back page.
- ⑥ Print your name clearly at the top of the Reference Section, fill in the closing date for the course, and give it to your Course Tutor, Head of Department or other appropriate person to complete. You may return the reference with your form, or your referee may return it to us directly. It must arrive by the closing date for the course.

You MUST fill in Sections 1 to 6 as well as the Declaration. You will notice that some sections may not seem relevant to your experience but you MUST follow the instructions carefully and fill in these sections as indicated.

You must write your answers clearly and use a black ball-point or ink pen. Remember, incomplete or badly completed application forms may result in your application not being considered.

The completed application form must be returned to:

The Registrar
National College of Art and Design
100 Thomas Street
Dublin 8, Ireland

and not to any other member of the College staff.

Enter the date you returned the completed application form here and keep this page for your records.

Acknowledgements of applications are not issued.
