1. Introduction

This module focuses on the development of skills and knowledge applicable to the formation of a professional practice and identity as a visual art practitioner.

The aims of this module are to:

- Raise awareness of the design process from research stages through to finished work.

- Explore traditional and contemporary approaches to design.

- Explore colour theory and apply to design processes.

- Apply techniques of textile print creatively.

- Experiment with a range of materials and designs.

2. What will I learn?

On successful completion of this module students will be able to:

1. Establish a research process suitable to printing and design.

2. Demonstrate the use of dyes and pigments within the printing process.

3. Translate ideas and research materials into designs suitable for fashion or interior markets.

4. Select appropriate materials for project work.

5. Observe appropriate health and safety regulations for studio practice.

6. Present a body of work for display.

Prior learning	Where a student can demonstrate that they have achieved at least 80% of the learning outcomes of this module, by academic certified achievement, or through quantifiable and documented experience, they can apply to the School for that prior learning to be recognised. Applications must be received prior to the commencement of delivery of the module.
Recommended	None

8. When and where is this module offered?

Appropriate space booked through college bookable room system

9. How will I have the chance to evaluate the module?

It is important to NCAD that students inform the development of teaching and learning at NCAD. We encourage all students to communicate their concerns and their observations about their study to members of staff so that any changes can be made in a timely manner.

A student forum will be convened to gather students' comments about their study and the delivery of the programme. In addition, at the end of Trimester 2, students have the opportunity to complete an online evaluation of their study and experience at NCAD. These evaluation events are important to current and future students, to ensure we can enhance the delivery of programmes at NCAD.

In addition, you are invited to discuss your experience on the module with your lecturers at any point during the year. You can also relay your comments to the class student representative who will communicate your comments to the staff.
