Hello! ,

My name is Sarah. I live in rural Sligo on a 5th generation small family farm. It wasn't until lockdown that I truly began to observe the environment I live in. Spending the majority of my lockdown days on the farm gave me the chance to develop a brand-new appreciation for my surroundings. Exploring the farm never fails to be an adventure. I became fascinated by the irregular patterns and textures, rusting, rotting, cracks and how everything has a use and purpose no matter how far from its initial intention. I realised that the farm itself is a piece of ancient artwork and that my everyday world is full of endless possibilities. This work is only a beginning of what I hope to achieve.
