1. Introduction

This module introduces you to methods and techniques that will help you to navigate the evolving design landscape, identify opportunities and make connections to address complex problems. You will undertake a thematic project with colleagues, and develop a project through teamwork, negotiation and collaboration.

The module aims to:

1. introduce basic team work practices and methods
2. enable students to begin to position their personal practice within their discipline

2. What will I learn?

On successful completion of this module students will be able to:

- CONNECT: demonstrate an understanding of fundamental professional practices and interdisciplinary methods
- POSITION: position and communicate proposals, concepts and responses verbally, visually and in writing.

3. How will I learn?

Students will learn through a combination of set activities within the studio and self-directed study within and outside the studio.

9. How will I have the chance to evaluate the module?

It is important to NCAD that students inform the development of teaching and learning at NCAD.

We encourage all students to communicate their concerns and their observations about their study to members of staff so that any changes can be made in a timely manner.

About two-thirds of the way through each trimester, a student forum will be convened to gather students' comments about their study and the delivery of the programme. In addition, at the end of the spring trimester, students have the opportunity to complete an online evaluation of their study and experience at NCAD. These evaluation events are important to current and future students, to ensure we can enhance the delivery of programmes at NCAD.

In addition, you are invited to discuss your experience on the module with your lecturers at any point during the year. You can also relay your comments to the class student representative who will communicate your comments to the staff.
